

Domestic & Global Visiting Surgeon Program in Shoulder Treatment

Q What is the Visiting Surgeon Program?

The Visiting Surgeon Program is designed to provide orthopedic surgeons with the opportunity to learn from other surgeons in a hospital setting. The program focuses on sharing and learning knowledge and skills in surgical and non-surgical shoulder treatments. Visiting surgeons include orthopedic surgeons in South Korea and outside of South Korea. The duration of the program varies from one day to several weeks depending on the participant's situation. Through the program, the visiting surgeons will participate in the following activities:

- Observe outpatient clinics in orthopedic surgery.
- Observe live shoulder surgery.
- Practice arthroscopic shoulder surgery techniques with a shoulder training model.
- Discuss surgical options, procedures, techniques, and devices to treat shoulder diseases.
- Participate in a certification ceremony and receive a certificate of completion.

Who Hosts the Program?

The program is hosted by Narsha hospital. Narsha Hospital is an orthopedic hospital specialized in shoulder treatment with a 13-story facility and Narsha Shoulder Research Center. Since 2018, more than 100 qualified medical doctors and staff have treated many patients across the nation successfully. * <http://www.narshahospital.co.kr/en/>

*Products of Smith & Nephew will be used to practice arthroscopic shoulder surgery techniques with a shoulder training model.

Who are Surgeons in Charge of Training?

The participating surgeons are orthopedic specialists with professional knowledge and experience in shoulder treatments. They have worked in university hospitals, general hospitals, and had overseas training at orthopedic surgery hospitals.

Lee, Changsoo, Orthopedic Surgery

- M.D., College of Medicine, Inje University
- Resident, Orthopedic Surgery, Inje University Paik Hospital
- Professor (shoulder), Inje University Paik Hospital
- Visiting Professor, Balgrist Hospital, University of Zurich, Switzerland
- Visiting Professor, McKay Orthopaedic Research Laboratory, University of Pennsylvania, US
- Medical Staff, Ilsan Teun Teun Hospital
- Head of Joint Center, Seoul Bumin Hospital
- Head of Joint Center, Haeundae Bumin Hospital
- Member, The Korean Orthopaedic Association
- Member, Korean Shoulder and Elbow Society

Lee, Dongki, Orthopedic Surgery

- M.D., College of Medicine, Kyunghee University
- Resident, Orthopedic Surgery, Kyunghee University
- Fellow, Seoul Shoulder and Elbow Center (Seoul National Uni./ Samsung Hospital/St. Mary's Hospital & etc.)
- Clinical Professor (shoulder), Kyunghee University
- Overseas Training, Kerlan-Jobe Clinic, US
- Overseas Training, Keck Hospital, University of Southern California, US
- Overseas Training, Langone Hospital, New York University, US
- Member, The Korean Orthopaedic Association
- Member, Korean Shoulder and Elbow Society

Where is the Program Held?

Narsha hospital main building and Narsha Shoulder Research Center

Address 6, Jungang-daero 1493beon- gil, Dongnae-gu, Busan, South Korea
Phone +82-051-715-7878
Email narshahospital@naver.com

How to Register for the Program

If you're interested in the visiting surgeon program, please send us an email at narshahospital@naver.com. Please include information below when you send us an email. A member of International Services at Narsha hospital will contact you soon.

- Your name:
- Hospital or institution you work for:
- Preferred date for the program:
- Phone number:
- Email: